Enhanced Security – Tighter Control

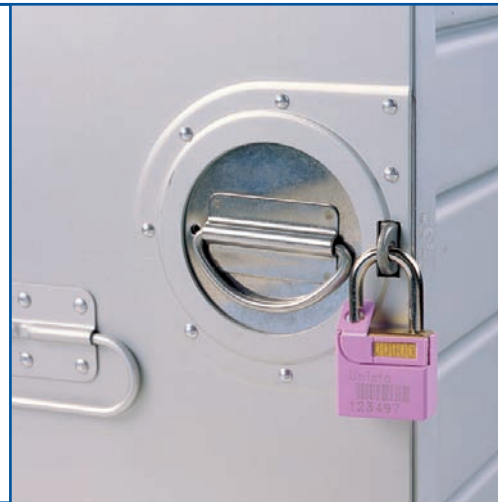

In today's fast moving airline and airline handling environment security is mandatory to control access to in-flight equipment and delivery vehicles; protecting from pilferage and the ever present threat of terrorism. Unisto security seals can be used throughout the process to provide cost-effective tamper evident security. From a simple integrity check to state of the art electronic seal with downloadable audit trail, Unisto seals offer unique features, tamper evident mechanisms, precision manufacturing that show-up any attempt of tampering or manipulation.

Padlock 3 & 4

Easy to use, allowing single handed closing and safe, fast removal as an aid to flight attendant efficiency.

Padlock 3 offers a cost effective sealing solution whereas Padlock 4 provides enhanced tamper evidence features for applications with higher risk.

QUBIS 30mm padlock & sleeve

Complete padlock access control system with uniquely numbered, colour coded, tamper evident sleeve that prevents access to the keyway. The Qubis provides a clear audit trail of all padlock openings.

Targo

High security solution for duty free.

Designed for use on in-bound flights, the Targo is designed to be tamper resistant offering a barrier to opportunistic theft. The seal is removed using cutters in the bonded stores.

Any attempted tampering is revealed by a couple of unique security features.

Manta & SealTrak

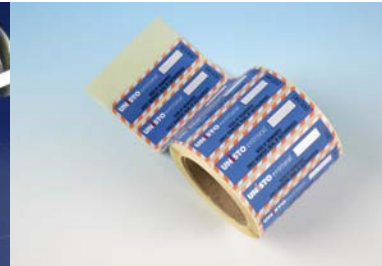

Reusable electronic seal has 4 digit lit random number display and 100 sealing event memory, giving seal number, time and date of event, all downloadable to your PC for analysis via SealTrak.

Simple to fit to vehicle doors, Manta can be used with a hasp for single door or remote sensors for multiple access points.

Security Specialists – in Airline Security

Unisto specialises in the design and manufacture of security seals and systems. Established suppliers to the airline and airline handling sector, our many years of experience are backed by technical expertise and state of the art manufacturing facilities.

Unisto works in close collaboration with major airlines, catering and duty free service providers to develop effective solutions to protect from theft, stowage of illegal goods or explosives. Providing highly tamper evident seals is only the first important step to prevent thieves or terrorists, the other is the checking itself. Even here we can help with training videos to develop habits that will lead to a reduction in losses and potentially something far more serious.
